Coach Tim Blue is starting a golf camp for intermediate and advanced golfers. The camp will be the first week of June, Tuesday through Friday (May 31 – June 3). On Tuesday, he will take the students to Bill Baraban's Academy for Golf for 3 hours of intensive computerized swing analysis, putting alignment analysis, and a personality inventory test that allows players to know their own strengths and weaknesses in relation to golf strategy. On Wednesday – Friday, the golfers will be at St. Ives from 8-12 for 1 and ½ hours of PGA-professional swing and short game instruction. Then all students will go out to the course to work on playing strategy and course management. Coach Blue will be primarily leading the golfers on course time, but the St. Ives professionals will also join the players at least one time while on the course. The cost for these 4 days will be $400. The intention of this camp is to help players get ready for a summer of golf competition and for golfers to take their game to the next level. Please contact Tim Blue for the details about this camp.
